Leisure Travel Insurance

The world has opened up in recent years with the most far-flung locations now available to all rather than a select few. Whilst more aircraft operate around the world, other forms of transport are also on the increase – cruise ships, ferries, coaches and trains. The opportunity to undertake different types of trips continues to rise and the option of undertaking more sports and pastimes whilst travelling even on the most basic of beach holidays increases.

Leisure Travel Insurance

Leisure travel insurance is a specific area of insurance that provides a range of covers designed to protect the traveller from a variety of risks that may arise whilst they are travelling. Cover incept as the trip is booked (cancellation insurance) and continues throughout the trip protecting against unforeseen circumstances that arise whilst away from home.

Typically cover can be offered for:

- Personal accident including death
- Medical and associated expenses
- Cancellation and curtailment
- Personal effects and personal money
- Personal liability
- Legal expenses
- Travel delay and missed departure
- Hijack and catastrophe
