Sports Disability Insurance

The world of sport is an emotive and passionate pastime for many people. However, in the elite world of professional sport, the necessity for appropriate insurance coverage cannot be underestimated given the enormous sums of money involved.

Cover can be arranged for the individual sports person on themselves, by their management company, on a team basis by the club proprietors, or even for sponsors or agents where contractual arrangements exist.

Sports Disability Insurance

Sports disability insurance is a specialist area of the disability market where coverage is designed to offer the sports person or insuring principal, protection against the inability of the sports person to continue participating in their sport, whether for a short period of disability or permanently.

Typically cover can be offered for:

Accidental death – a lump sum benefit payable following the death of the insured person after an accident.

Permanent total disablement – a lump sum payment following a career ending accident or illness.

Temporary total disablement – generally a weekly or monthly payment designed to replace lost income following an accident or illness, which temporarily prohibits an individual from undertaking their employment / contractual obligations.

Medical expenses – due to accident and / or illness

Information required to obtain terms:

- Required coverage sums
- Age of the insured(s)
- Club, team, sport or profession
- Who is the beneficiary of the insurance
